About the rescue mission

Within a Palestinian partnership, the Japanese organization Frontline announced a rescue mission in the Gaza Strip, in light of the ongoing war, in partnership with the Nafes for Empowerment and with the support of the Japanese people and the Japana platform

The rescue mission is divided into a number of programs

- A psychological first aid program for children in the Gaza Strip, which our organization implements in the Gaza office in partnership with Nafes Foundation for Empowerment, where the team conducts direct and group workshops with children who were forcibly displaced with their families to UNRWA schools in the city of Rafah, south of the Gaza Strip
- Providing health and food support to Abu Youssef Al-Najjar Hospital in Rafah, which suffers from a severe shortage of all medical supplies, including health personnel, in light of the large overcrowding of displaced people in the city of Rafah, which has negatively affected the ability of the collapsed health sector to provide services

Inside UNRWA shelter centers

- Our team continues to work dedicatedly and has continued since the beginning of the war on the Gaza Strip through direct implementation with children and in the largest Ono schools in the city of Rafah in the south of the Gaza Strip, which has been transformed since the beginning of the war
- Children participate in our activities in large groups, estimated at 100 to 250 children, within a weekly plan developed by the team that ensures the effective participation of children in order to alleviate the severity of the psychological traumas they are exposed to during the war

We cling to life

In a way that expresses a state of great passion for clinging to life... the children participate in the activities of our team that coincide with their difficult psychological conditions in group and diverse activities through which they can express the ambitions and dreams that are on their minds so that they can cling to them in light of the harsh conditions in which they live in the Gaza Strip. And alleviating the severity of the psychological trauma they are exposed to during the ongoing war on the Gaza Strip

Nice smiles

Listening to them, giving them advice, providing them with psychological guidance, and creating an atmosphere full of trust with them is one of the paths our team takes in implementing psychological first aid (PFA) programs. With kids ; What makes the relationship strong between the children of our team members is the taste of these gentle smiles in the atmosphere of the program's workshops

Parents' participation

Parents participate with their children in the activities carried out by our team in a wonderful harmony that can be built upon. This enhances the extent of benefit from the psychological first aid that our team provides to children on the one hand, and on the other hand it creates a healthy family atmosphere that increases family cohesion and maintains it in light of the difficult conditions in which the people of the Gaza Strip live.

Words from parents

Your work is very important and children always need psychological entertainment, after they have lived through moments that we have not experienced in our lives, where we live in a terrifying atmosphere every night, and this is reflected in our children. Thank you for putting a smile on the faces of our children and relieving them of the scourge of war. Good luck to you in your distinguished activities

Support the health sector

- Within the framework of the rescue mission, the team provided the first batch of food parcels to the injured and sick inside Abu Youssef Al-Najjar Hospital in very difficult conditions. The team succeeded in preparing the parcels despite the ongoing siege and the ongoing closure of markets, and the goods ran out due to the war and siege.
- Our team is constantly striving to prepare the first batch of medicines that will be provided to Abu Youssef Al-Najjar Hospital, as according to our follow-up, the hospital is suffering from a severe shortage of medicine and working medical personnel due to the intensity of its targeting and the huge numbers of displaced people in the city of Rafah.

Medicine and food

We are doing everything we can to continue providing support to Abu Youssef Al-Najjar Hospital (medicine and food) within the framework of the rescue mission implemented by the Japanese frontline Foundation in partnership with the Nafs for empowerment organizations , while we call the world to intervene immediately and urgently to save the collapsed Palestinian health sector as a result of the ongoing war on the sector Gaza

Words from parents

We are trying, in light of the difficult circumstances and within the framework of dedicated teamwork and the strategic partnership between the frontLine organization and Nafs for Empowerment organizations , to provide a wonderful model of activities within the framework of our Psychological first aid program, where our team, composed of members with long experience in the field of psychological support, works to provide their duty in The humanitarian catastrophe in the Gaza Strip resulting from the ongoing war remains unabated.
